

Alvin Gilbert Funeral Sunday

Final rites for Alvin W. Gilbert, 75, former member of the U. S. consulate in China and retired Almota mail carrier who died at a Spokane hospital Sept. 19, 1948, were held Sunday at the First Mennonite church in Onecho with Rev. Earl Shoup of Pullman and Rev. P. D. Unruh of Onecho officiating.

The ashes of the deceased were placed beside those of his wife in the Onecho cemetery, with Rev. Unruh conducting the graveside rites.

Born at Coon Rapids, Ia., Nov. 14, 1873, Mr. Gilbert received his B. A. degree in 1903 and married Mattie Thayer of Iola, Kans., the same year. The following year he was sent to Peking, China, by the YMCA but later resigned to accept a position in the American consular service. In 1911 he became vice-consul at Nanking and was acting consul-in-charge when the Chinese republic received official recognition from the U. S. in 1913.

Later he served as construction superintendent for the Nanking-American school where his four children, three of whom were born in China, received their elementary education. After two years of teaching in China, he returned with his family to the U. S. and became rural mail carrier in Almota and Tacoma.

Mrs. Gilbert died in 1937 and since his retirement in 1938, Mr. Gilbert had been living with his daughters, Mrs. A. M. Rubin and Mrs. John Aeschliman, and at Hillcrest hospital, prior to moving to Spokane last August.

He leaves two sons, Edmond J. of Anchorage, Alaska, and Alvin W. Jr. of Encino, Calif.; two daughters, Mrs. Rubin and Mrs. Aeschliman, both of Onecho; 10 grandchildren, three sisters and one brother.

Alvin Gilbert Funeral Sunday

Final rites for Alvin W. Gilbert, 75, former member of the U. S. consulate in China and retired Almota mail carrier who died at a Spokane hospital Sept. 19, 1948, were held Sunday at the First Mennonite church in Onecho with Rev. Earl Shoup of Pullman and Rev. P. D. Unruh of Onecho officiating.

The ashes of the deceased were placed beside those of his wife in the Onecho cemetery, with Rev. Unruh conducting the graveside rites.

Born at Coon Rapids, Ia., Nov. 14, 1873, Mr. Gilbert received his B. A. degree in 1903 and married Mattie Thayer of Iola, Kans., the same year. The following year he was sent to Peking, China, by the YMCA but later resigned to accept a position in the American consular service. In 1911 he became vice-consul at Nanking and was acting consul-in-charge when the Chinese republic received official recognition from the U. S. in 1913.

Later he served as construction superintendent for the Nanking-American school where his four children, three of whom were born in China, received their elementary education. After two years of teaching in China, he returned with his family to the U. S. and became rural mail carrier in Almota and Tacoma.

Mrs. Gilbert died in 1937 and since his retirement in 1938, Mr. Gilbert had been living with his daughters, Mrs. A. M. Rubin and Mrs. John Aeschliman, and at Hillcrest hospital, prior to moving to Spokane last August.

He leaves two sons, Edmond J. of Anchorage, Alaska, and Alvin W. Jr. of Encino, Calif.; two daughters, Mrs. Rubin and Mrs. Aeschliman, both of Onecho; 10 grandchildren, three sisters and one brother.

Alvin Gilbert Funeral Sunday

Final rites for Alvin W. Gilbert, 75, former member of the U. S. consulate in China and retired Almota mail carrier who died at a Spokane hospital Sept. 19, 1948, were held Sunday at the First Mennonite church in Onecho with Rev. Earl Shoup of Pullman and Rev. P. D. Unruh of Onecho officiating.

The ashes of the deceased were placed beside those of his wife in the Onecho cemetery, with Rev. Unruh conducting the graveside rites.

Born at Coon Rapids, Ia., Nov. 14, 1873, Mr. Gilbert received his B. A. degree in 1903 and married Mattie Thayer of Iola, Kans., the same year. The following year he was sent to Peking, China, by the YMCA but later resigned to accept a position in the American consular service. In 1911 he became vice-consul at Nanking and was acting consul-in-charge when the Chinese republic received official recognition from the U. S. in 1913.

Later he served as construction superintendent for the Nanking-American school where his four children, three of whom were born in China, received their elementary education. After two years of teaching in China, he returned with his family to the U. S. and became rural mail carrier in Almota and Tacoma.

Mrs. Gilbert died in 1937 and since his retirement in 1938, Mr. Gilbert had been living with his daughters, Mrs. A. M. Rubin and Mrs. John Aeschliman, and at Hillcrest hospital, prior to moving to Spokane last August.

He leaves two sons, Edmond J. of Anchorage, Alaska, and Alvin W. Jr. of Encino, Calif.; two daughters, Mrs. Rubin and Mrs. Aeschliman, both of Onecho; 10 grandchildren, three sisters and one brother.

Alvin Gilbert Funeral Sunday

Final rites for Alvin W. Gilbert, 75, former member of the U. S. consulate in China and retired Almota mail carrier who died at a Spokane hospital Sept. 19, 1948, were held Sunday at the First Mennonite church in Onecho with Rev. Earl Shoup of Pullman and Rev. P. D. Unruh of Onecho officiating.

The ashes of the deceased were placed beside those of his wife in the Onecho cemetery, with Rev. Unruh conducting the graveside rites.

Born at Coon Rapids, Ia., Nov. 14, 1873, Mr. Gilbert received his B. A. degree in 1903 and married Mattie Thayer of Iola, Kans., the same year. The following year he was sent to Peking, China, by the YMCA but later resigned to accept a position in the American consular service. In 1911 he became vice-consul at Nanking and was acting consul-in-charge when the Chinese republic received official recognition from the U. S. in 1913.

Later he served as construction superintendent for the Nanking-American school where his four children, three of whom were born in China, received their elementary education. After two years of teaching in China, he returned with his family to the U. S. and became rural mail carrier in Almota and Tacoma.

Mrs. Gilbert died in 1937 and since his retirement in 1938, Mr. Gilbert had been living with his daughters, Mrs. A. M. Rubin and Mrs. John Aeschliman, and at Hillcrest hospital, prior to moving to Spokane last August.

He leaves two sons, Edmond J. of Anchorage, Alaska, and Alvin W. Jr. of Encino, Calif.; two daughters, Mrs. Rubin and Mrs. Aeschliman, both of Onecho; 10 grandchildren, three sisters and one brother.

Alvin Gilbert Funeral Sunday

Final rites for Alvin W. Gilbert, 75, former member of the U. S. consulate in China and retired Almota mail carrier who died at a Spokane hospital Sept. 19, 1948, were held Sunday at the First Mennonite church in Onecho with Rev. Earl Shoup of Pullman and Rev. P. D. Unruh of Onecho officiating.

The ashes of the deceased were placed beside those of his wife in the Onecho cemetery, with Rev. Unruh conducting the graveside rites.

Born at Coon Rapids, Ia., Nov. 14, 1873, Mr. Gilbert received his B. A. degree in 1903 and married Mattie Thayer of Iola, Kans., the same year. The following year he was sent to Peking, China, by the YMCA but later resigned to accept a position in the American consular service. In 1911 he became vice-consul at Nanking and was acting consul-in-charge when the Chinese republic received official recognition from the U. S. in 1913.

Later he served as construction superintendent for the Nanking-American school where his four children, three of whom were born in China, received their elementary education. After two years of teaching in China, he returned with his family to the U. S. and became rural mail carrier in Almota and Tacoma.

Mrs. Gilbert died in 1937 and since his retirement in 1938, Mr. Gilbert had been living with his daughters, Mrs. A. M. Rubin and Mrs. John Aeschliman, and at Hillcrest hospital, prior to moving to Spokane last August.

He leaves two sons, Edmond J. of Anchorage, Alaska, and Alvin W. Jr. of Encino, Calif.; two daughters, Mrs. Rubin and Mrs. Aeschliman, both of Onecho; 10 grandchildren, three sisters and one brother.

Alvin Gilbert Funeral Sunday

Final rites for Alvin W. Gilbert, 75, former member of the U. S. consulate in China and retired Almota mail carrier who died at a Spokane hospital Sept. 19, 1948, were held Sunday at the First Mennonite church in Onecho with Rev. Earl Shoup of Pullman and Rev. P. D. Unruh of Onecho officiating.

The ashes of the deceased were placed beside those of his wife in the Onecho cemetery, with Rev. Unruh conducting the graveside rites.

Born at Coon Rapids, Ia., Nov. 14, 1873, Mr. Gilbert received his B. A. degree in 1903 and married Mattie Thayer of Iola, Kans., the same year. The following year he was sent to Peking, China, by the YMCA but later resigned to accept a position in the American consular service. In 1911 he became vice-consul at Nanking and was acting consul-in-charge when the Chinese republic received official recognition from the U. S. in 1913.

Later he served as construction superintendent for the Nanking-American school where his four children, three of whom were born in China, received their elementary education. After two years of teaching in China, he returned with his family to the U. S. and became rural mail carrier in Almota and Tacoma.

Mrs. Gilbert died in 1937 and since his retirement in 1938, Mr. Gilbert had been living with his daughters, Mrs. A. M. Rubin and Mrs. John Aeschliman, and at Hillcrest hospital, prior to moving to Spokane last August.

He leaves two sons, Edmond J. of Anchorage, Alaska, and Alvin W. Jr. of Encino, Calif.; two daughters, Mrs. Rubin and Mrs. Aeschliman, both of Onecho; 10 grandchildren, three sisters and one brother.

Alvin Gilbert Funeral Sunday

Final rites for Alvin W. Gilbert, 75, former member of the U. S. consulate in China and retired Almota mail carrier who died at a Spokane hospital Sept. 19, 1948, were held Sunday at the First Mennonite church in Onecho with Rev. Earl Shoup of Pullman and Rev. P. D. Unruh of Onecho officiating.

The ashes of the deceased were placed beside those of his wife in the Onecho cemetery, with Rev. Unruh conducting the graveside rites.

Born at Coon Rapids, Ia., Nov. 14, 1873, Mr. Gilbert received his B. A. degree in 1903 and married Mattie Thayer of Iola, Kans., the same year. The following year he was sent to Peking, China, by the YMCA but later resigned to accept a position in the American consular service. In 1911 he became vice-consul at Nanking and was acting consul-in-charge when the Chinese republic received official recognition from the U. S. in 1913.

Later he served as construction superintendent for the Nanking-American school where his four children, three of whom were born in China, received their elementary education. After two years of teaching in China, he returned with his family to the U. S. and became rural mail carrier in Almota and Tacoma.

Mrs. Gilbert died in 1937 and since his retirement in 1938, Mr. Gilbert had been living with his daughters, Mrs. A. M. Rubin and Mrs. John Aeschliman, and at Hillcrest hospital, prior to moving to Spokane last August.

He leaves two sons, Edmond J. of Anchorage, Alaska, and Alvin W. Jr. of Encino, Calif.; two daughters, Mrs. Rubin and Mrs. Aeschliman, both of Onecho; 10 grandchildren, three sisters and one brother.